INTRODUCTION

The Whitefoord R. Cole, Jr. Collection, 1818-1951, contains correspondence of Felix Grundy (1777-1833) and John M. Bass (1804-1878) and other ancestral papers. The Whitefoord R. Cole, Jr. Collection was a gift of Whitefoord R. Cole, Jr., Louisville, Kentucky.

The materials in this finding aid measure 1.26 linear feet. There are no restrictions on the materials. Literary rights in these papers have been dedicated to the public. Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Whitefoord R. Cole, Jr., may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Whitefoord R. Cole, Jr. Collection containing approximately 800 items, spans the period 1818-1951. The collection is composed of accounts, correspondence, diaries, genealogical data, indentures, wills, court and estate papers, land grants, stocks, receivership papers for the City of Nashville (1869), programs, writings, and some miscellaneous memoranda. The bulk of the material falls within the years 1818-1900 and deals with such important people as Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk, Felix Grundy, John M. Bass, Jacob McGavock, Henry Clay and John C. Calhoun.

The collection contains correspondence of Will White, 1818-1825, and The Rev. John W. Ogden, 1838, first and second husbands respectively, of Eliza Caroline Wharton. The letters of Will White give interesting descriptions of the country between Nashville and New Orleans in the early 1800s. He made a trip to Natchez in 1820 for the purpose of disposing of some of his Negroes. He complained that they had given him so much trouble he was almost ready to give them away to anyone who would punish them. Will White wrote one letter in 1825 from his home in Louisa County, Virginia. The Rev. John W. Ogden was the second husband of Eliza Caroline and there are several letters written by him in 1838. Eliza's daughter, Jane, married Dr. Berry, and their daughter, Mary Wharton Berry, married John M. Bass, Jr..

The John M. Bass correspondence, 1839-1877, deals with Union Bank of Tennessee and State bonds. Mr. Bass was a wealthy financier and son-in-law of Felix Grundy. He had extensive property in Davidson County, St. Louis, Missouri, "Talla Bena" plantation, Louisiana and lands in Arkansas. In 1869, he was made Receiver for the City of Nashville.

The diaries of Mary Conner Bass include her trip to New Orleans in 1892 and her extensive European travels in 1889-1890. One little volume contains sample materials of dresses worn on important occasions. The wills of the Bass and Grundy families plus other estate papers contain information regarding financial conditions of the period from 1800-1870. Genealogical data for the Bass, Berry, Caldwell, Daughtery, Grundy, McGavock, Ogden, Rodgers, Wharton and White families make up the remainder of this collection.
